DESCRIPTION/OPTIONS: 2011 Ram Dakota Crew Cab 4 wheel drive V6 and low miles. Only 76,000 miles on this nice truck. Frame is in great shape. Super clean. Seats had covers on them until recently. The Dodge/Ram Dakota is slightly larger than most small pickups, but it also has more capability than most other trucks in the class. The 2011 generation was powered by a 210-horsepower V6. Ride quality is much improved over the previous generations. Some people call the Dakota a small or mini truck, but this crew cab has a roomy interior and has towing capacity of 6900lbs. The long-term reviews show this truck to be one of the best used small trucks available on the market. This crew cab truck is a V6, 4WD, with power windows, power locks, cruise, remote start and lots more. Priced to move.
